Volunteering is a Family Affair

Improve Forest Lands

Construct and maintain trails and fences or install water lines.

Help with cultural resource program; assist with archeological inventory and digs.

Help with the cleanup of local campgrounds.

The Forest Service provides opportunities for the public to participate in managing their national forest. Call Dave at 377-5780 ext. 109.

Provide entertainment for the residents.

Perform musical programs or plays.

Help with arts and crafts, bingo and cooking classes.

Please discuss your plans with the care center to make sure you are helping in the best way.

Rippy Literacy Center

Some openings are still available in the new basics classes (teaching letters and sounds) that start on June 6 and go through Aug. 3. Students must be four years old by the time classes begin.

Summer sessions at the literacy center begin June 13 and end Aug. 3. Picnic in the Park will be Aug. 4. Call today to sign up for free classes in reading, math, basics, emergent readers, English as a Second Language, homework help and computer help.

Volunteer tutors are needed to help our students during the summer session. Join us in this rewarding effort. We are located in the Lehi Library Building, 120 N. Center St. There is a separate entrance on the Center Street side. Summer reading classes will be at 9, 10 and 11 a.m. Mon. - Thurs.

If you can dedicate at least one hour two days per week, call 407-1025 to volunteer.

The Rippy Literacy Center is already preparing for its Green Eggs and Ham Extravaganza in January 2006. They plan to have a silent auction in conjunction with this event to help generate funds for the center.

They will be auctioning quality hand made crafts, etc. Start creating your donation now. Some suggestions are: quilts, paintings, woodwork, unique dolls or toys, special hand crafted items of all varieties. Use your talent to benefit others. Call 407-1025 or drop off your donations at the Rippy Literacy Center at 120 N. Center. (Donations will be accepted starting in November 2005.)

Reading for Pleasure

School may be out for the summer school but that doesn't mean your children can't be learning. One way to learn is to read for pleasure. Here are a few tips on getting your children to enjoy reading books for fun:

- 1) Model reading for pleasure. Talk with your children about what you're reading, make your enthusiasm for reading obvious to them. Explain how reading gives you pleasure while helping you learn about life and the world.
- 2) Set aside a regular family reading time each day or week.
- 3) Make reading aloud a family activity. Read to your kids as long as they'll let you, and when they're old enough, take turns reading out loud.
- 4) Visit the library often and let your children pick out many different types of reading materials.
- 5) Limit television watching.
- 6) Play word games like Scrabble and Boggle together.
- 7) When a movie based on a book is released, read the book first. Then see the movie together and talk about how the two compare.
- 8) Read the same books as a family and talk about them afterwards.
